Contents

About the Contributors viii
Acknowledgments xv

1 Editors’ Introduction
Jack Martin, Jeff Sugarman, and Kathleen L. Slaney 1

Part I Philosophical/Conceptual Approaches 21

2 Philosophical Anthropology
Matthew LaVine and Michael A. Tissaw 23

3 Conceptual Analysis
Timothy P. Racine 39

4 Philosophical Hermeneutics
Frank C. Richardson 53

5 An Aristotelian Analysis of the Structure of Human Action
Blaine J. Fowers 70

6 Phenomenology: Methods, Historical Development, and Applications in Psychology
Frederick J. Wertz 85

7 Theory for and as Social Practice of Realizing the Future: Implications from a Transformative Activist Stance
Anna Stetsenko 102

8 Rhetoric and Psychology: Ending the Dominance of Nouns
Michael Billig and Cristina Marinho 117
Part II  Historical Approaches
9 Historical Thinking as a Tool for Theoretical Psychology: On Objectivity
Thomas Teo
10 The History of Psychological Objects
Adrian Charles Brock
11 Historical Ontology
Jeff Sugarman
12 Historiometry
Dean Keith Simonton
13 Statistical Thinking in Psychological Research: In Quest of Clarity through Historical Inquiry and Conceptual Analysis
James T. Lamiell

Part III  Narrative and Social Psychological Approaches
14 Narrative Psychology and Life Stories
Ruthellen Josselson and Brent Hopkins
15 Narrative Hermeneutics
Mark Freeman
16 Life Positioning Analysis
Jack Martin
17 Positioning Theory
Rom Harré
18 The Personal Position Repertoire (PPR) Method as Based on Dialogical Self Theory
Hubert J.M. Hermans
19 Subjectivity as Socioculturally Constituted Experience
Suzanne R. Kirschner
20 A Transdisciplinary Psychosocial Approach
Paul Stenner

Part IV  Theoretical Studies of Scientific, Professional, and Life Practices
21 Allies in Interdisciplinary Spaces: Theoretical Psychology and Science Studies
Kareen Ror Malone and Lisa M. Osbeck
Contents

22 "I'm Not That Kind of Psychologist": A Case for Methodological Pragmatism in Theoretical Inquiries into Psychological Science Practices
Kathleen L. Slaney

23 The Value of Experiments in Psychology
Jan Smelstlund

24 Feminism and Theoretical Psychology
Alexandra Rutherford, Kate Sheese, and Nora Ruck

25 Surprisability and Practical Rationality: Knowledge Advancement through the Explication of Interpretation
Brent D. Slife, Clayton T. Johnson, and Amy C. Jennings

26 Empirical Philosophy: Using Your Everyday Life in Theoretical Psychology
Svend Brinkmann

27 Theoretical Bases of Psychotherapeutic Practices
John Chambers Christopher, Samuel C. Gable, and David M. Goodman

28 Contemporary Psychoanalysis: The Post-Cartesian Turn in Theory and Practice
Roger Frie

Index