

Authors: Ewa Łaskarzewska

Title: Catholic blog as a place to bear witness of faith and dialogue with the world the example of the blog „Halo Ziemia” Konrada Kruczkowskiego

Source: Biuletyn Edukacji Medialnej

Year: 2015, number: 1(2015), pages: 58-68.

Keywords: blog, blogging, catholic, spirituality, evangelism, communication of faith, man, family

Discipline: MEDIA & COMMUNICATION

Language: ENGLISH

Document type: ARTICLE

Publication order reference (First author’s office address): Ewa Łaskarzewska, Katolicki Uniwersytet Lubelski Jana Pawła II, Wydział Teologii, Al. Raławickie 14, 20-950 Lublin, Poland

Abstract: This article is devoted to blogs Catholics - the not very well used and giving huge possibilities of virtual reality evangelization and witness life in accordance with the truths of the Gospel. Author describes the blog “Halo Ziemia” lead by Konrad Kruczkowski. It is an excellent example of how in a wise and prudent, and at the same time without unnecessary intrusive, virtual reality can share the testimony of life, in which God and faith are not just slogans. Blogger despite its very short activity was warmly received by readers - won the most important title “Blog Roku 2013”. In addition, one of the jurors awarded him the grand prize in the category: Politics, journalism, society. Blog Kruczkowskiego also received the title of “Bloga Blogerów”, awarded by last year's winners of this contest